PHIL NEAL

Well done to the lads for a gritty performance against Brentford the other night! That was an important win for us—three more points gained by virtue of another hard working display. Without going overboard about our current position, I must say it is pleasing to see that the lads are actually learning to concentrate effort-wise for a full 90 minutes.

They are maturing well, realising that they will achieve nothing in this game without 90 minutes' hard graft every time they take the field and refusing to look any further ahead than the next fixture.

That fixture is today against Eoin Hand's men, who have had some indifferent results this season but have also had some excellent ones. They hurt us at their place early in the season and we'll be looking to avenge that defeat this afternoon.

Things have changed considerably since those first few weeks. I recall saying at the time that things wouldn't start to settle until we were about 10 games into the season and, while we have achieved nothing yet, I've been pleased with the way things have gone since we got that draw at Bury back on October 13th.

I think that fans know how important they have been in the progress we have made so far. They helped considerably at Preston last Saturday and played their part again on Tuesday night. When you are having to hang on in there and results are decided by such narrow margin, the supporters come into their own.

Full marks to you all and keep up the good work.

An update of today's opposition

HUDDERSFIELD TOWN

This afternoon we extend a warm welcome to the players, officials and supporters of Huddersfield Town. Currently lying in a mid-table position, Town have 38 points from their 26 games, ten points less than the Wanderers. Last Tuesday, while Bolton were extending their unbeaten League sequence to 17 games with the 1-0 win over Brentford, Huddersfield were inactive, their game at Reading being postponed.

It's been a mixed season so far for Huddersfield. It began disastrously with four consecutive defeats, two of them at the hands of Bolton in the Rumbelows Cup. Town recovered to hand out a 4-0 thrashing to the Wanderers at Leeds Road on 8 September but then lost two and drew one of their next three games.

A run of four straight wins signalled the club's intention of mounting a promotion challenge but then another two defeats set them back. That inconsistent pattern has continued but with seven points from their last 3 games, including a fine 1-0 win at leaders Southend in their last away game, Huddersfield could still mount a challenge for a play-off place in their last remaining 20 games.

Away from home this season,

Town have won at Chester (2-1), Rotherham (3-1), Birmingham (2-1) and Southend and drawn at Fulham, Preston and Crewe. Of the five defeats on their travels, the heaviest was at Grimsby (0-4).

At Leeds Road Huddersfield have won seven times, the most impressive against the Wanderers (4-0) and Cambridge (3-1), but have drawn twice and lost on five occasions. In cup competitions their form has been disappointing. After going out of the Rumbelows Cup at the first round stage they went one better in the F.A. Cup, winning 2-1 at Altrincham before a surprise 0-2 home defeat at the hands of Blackpool in the second round. A 1-4 home defeat against another Fourth Division side, Hartlepool, put paid to any hopes of progressing past the preliminary round stage of the Leyland DAF Cup.

A total of 21 players have appeared in Town's League side so far this season, with two ever-present, Graham Mitchell and Kieran O'Regan. Manager Eoin Hand, a former player at Swindon and Portsmouth and former manager of the Eire national side and in charge at Leeds Road since June 1988, has introduced a number of new faces this season.

Iwan Roberts, a reported club record £275,000 signing from Watford, was seen as a direct replacement for the departed Craig Maskell, who left for Reading in a £250,000 deal in the summer. The vastly experienced and prolific striker Keith Edwards was snapped up from Stockport after having a loan spell with Huddersfield last season. Edwards, scorer of a hat-trick when the sides last met, has since been on loan to Plymouth. The experienced defender Peter Jackson was signed from Bradford while Gary Barnett joined the club from Fulham.

Scoring goals has been Town's major problem and their tally of 30 in 26 games has been spread around eleven players. Roberts and O'Regan lead the way with six each. In a bid to boost the attack, Hand signed Bolton-born striker Phil Stant on loan from Notts County, but Stant completed his month's spell with Town last Saturday and has subsequently joined Fulham in a £60,000 deal, scoring the match-winner on his debut last Tuesday.

The latest BEN action from the game

Action from our victories against Preston and Brentford which saw our unbeaten league run extended to seventeen games.

Tony Philliskirk was the goal hero at Deepdale which saw him extend his goal tally to nineteen while goalkeeper David Felgate was in tremendous form between the posts.

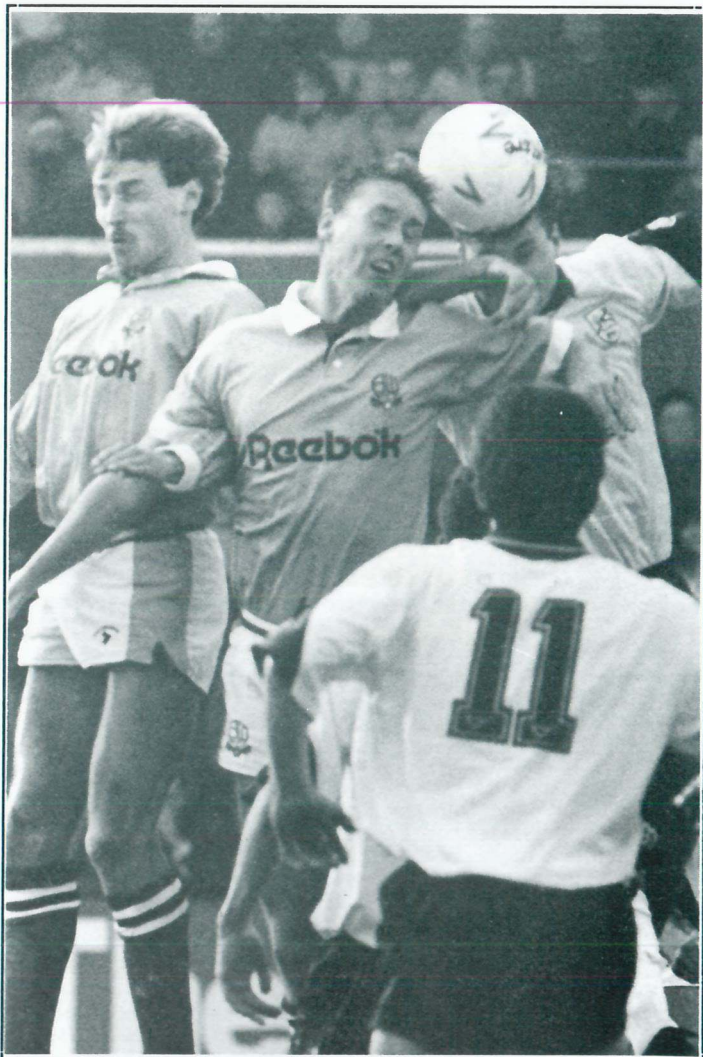

Tuesday night saw us move into third place courtesy of a Terry Evans own goal, the Whites were never in much danger of not securing the win but once again keeper Felgate produced one late save of the highest order.

A look at some of the great soccer stars

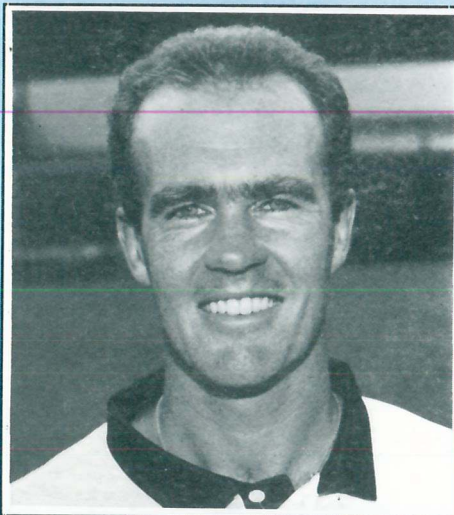

Alphabetically in the Football League structure Lincoln are placed one in front of Liverpool and if that situation ever became reality in terms of field success it will be fine by Lincoln's new appointed assistant manager, Dean Crombie.

Dean was well thought of by Bolton fans during his 3½ year stay and probably the highlight of his Burnley spell was scoring the fourth goal in the 1988 Sherpa Van Final at Wembley.

"Yes, I had some good times at Bolton" said Dean, "but all my family are based in Lincoln. I'm staying at my mum's at the moment. In football chances don't come often but had any other club approached me, I would have thought twice." Meanwhile, Dean has put his Bolton home up for sale.

The management team of Steve Thompson (Steve who?) and Dean Crombie already seems to be paying dividends. Dean quipped, "Our gaffer reckons to be a better player than Bolton's because he's got First Division experience."

It's not long ago Lincoln were bottom but Dean explained "When I arrived the team had only lost two out of nine games and beating Burnley gave me a great start and they never bothered us. We have two games this week against Scunthorpe and York and hopefully we'll get two results."

Why the sudden change of fortune? "Because the gaffer is getting things sorted. All the players are giving 100% and playing with discipline. I believe some players here are destined for higher things" he said.

Believing he still has plenty to offer on the field, Dean went on as substitute in the 1-1 draw at Cardiff recently. He has however found management to be more demanding. "My day doesn't finish at lunchtime any more. There is only two of us doing the job and I'm sometimes out of the house fourteen hours."

Lincoln's hesitant start to the season saw a fall in attendances but positive thinking Dean said, "Success breeds success, just like Bolton are at the minute and Lincoln is a good catchment area for support, just like Bolton. We'll make the best of it." The former Wanderers ace will continue to follow Bolton's progress closely. "Obviously I will watch them when I can but my priority is to watch matches that concern us" he said. What he learned at Bolton could prove invaluable at Lincoln.

"Mick Brown was a big influence on me" he admits, "and he was very good when I left. I will be getting back in touch."

Until Dean sells his Bolton home he will continue visiting the town where he was well admired.

In conclusion Dean asked, "Try and find an action picture for this article — they are antiques!"

Don't be surprised if you see Lincoln up there shortly.

PS—Sorry Dean, we're not in the business for antiques.

This afternoon we feature popular captain Phil Brown who has featured as an ever present in the Wanderers line up since his £17,000 move from Halifax Town in June 1988.

Still waiting to get his name on the scoresheet this season Phil came ever so close on Tuesday night in the home victory against Brentford. "That's right, the header was well saved by the 'keeper but I can sense a goal on the horizon, maybe this afternoon", he added with a rueful smile. The likeable full back though was well pleased with Tuesday's result which maintained our fine unbeaten run of results in the League. "Its another three points and we're now in third place in the Division. I knew that our form at the beginning of the season was false and we're now proving what we all believed all along, that we can play a bit. The boss has made some shrewd signings along the way and we intend to repay the faith that the manager and Mick Brown have shown in us by getting success on the park" stated Phil.

Grimsby—our visitors next Saturday—and Cambridge, rate as Phil's main rivals in the promotion stakes but he is quick to point out that most of the leading lights still have to visit Burnden Park and these will be real six pointers. "We are playing well as a unit and I am sure these sides won't relish having to come here, but as it has been said before, we must concentrate on each individual game" added Phil.

Turning away from the game for a moment or two and Phil helps to run "The Fleece" in Barksland near Halifax with his lovely wife Jane. "I really enjoy it, whether it's serving behind the bar or doing a spot of chef work in the restaurant. We get quite a few fellow footballers popping in like Rick Holden of Oldham or Lee Richardson from Blackburn and of course most of the lads from down here call in from time to time, as well as a certain Bolton hero from the late seventies in Frank Worthington.

As we all know from his recent spot on T.V. Phil is very musically inclined with him informing us that he has recently taken up playing the saxophone with the hope that when he has completed his lessons he could either join or form a band (watch out Gazza), many Lifeline members will remember Phil's exploits at last year's big night out at Pembroke Halls when he certainly wasn't afraid to get up on stage in front of around 1,000 people to exercise his vocal cords. Chuckling at that one he added "I love music and recently met members of Deacon Blue, so you could say I wouldn't mind being on 'Top of the Pops'!"

Phil's three years at the Club have seen him gain great respect from his fellow professionals as well as from the Wanderers faithful. "I've really enjoyed my time here. With no disrespect to Hartlepool and Halifax my former clubs, this Club has such fine tradition and if I can help in some ways to get the Club back into the higher divisions, then that would be great" added the likeable Georgie.

Even though playing is still his intention for a number of years, Phil would like to stay in the game in a coaching capacity. "I would like to keep on, say like Billy Bonds did till he was around 40, but I have made provisions to take my F.A. full coaching badge and would love to stay in the game when my time comes to quit playing" he stated.

Returning to our current seventeen-match unbeaten league run and Phil informs us of a nice little story about the current situation. "Well I took a bracelet to a jewellers in Ripponden to be mended just as we started the current run and of course it's still there at present, because there's no way that I would dare go for it at the moment. I phoned the shop up just in case they were getting worried about me not calling in for it, and I have told them they can keep it if we manage to go unbeaten till the end of the season, even though it's worth around £400", he added laughing.

When we asked him about the job of captaining the side he commented "Very easy at the moment with the side doing well but you still have to guard for complacency. Regarding the situation from last season I think we've all learned from that experience and coupled with the intelligent signings of Mark Seagraves and Mark Patterson this has left us in a far stronger position."

The captain of any team is always a crucial and responsible job and manager Phil Neal knows from past experience that having the right person doing such a vital role is essential to success on the park and that is the job that Phil Brown has done so well for the Wanderers for the past three seasons. Certainly from Phil's point, there wouldn't be a prouder player wearing the famous white shirt if he could lead the side into the Second Division come May.

The Wanderers extended their unbeaten run to 13 games by completing the double against Preston North End after a three week lay-off due to postponements.

Bolton were full value for the points but had Kevin Rose to thank for preventing North End making a game of it. On no less than three occasions he got down well at the feet of oncoming forwards to save after they had broken clean through the Wanderers defence.

Indeed it was Rose who began the move that led to the Wanderers taking the lead after 17 minutes. His clearance down the left flank found Neil Fisher who put Ian Stevens through. His effort was saved but Scott Green collected and crossed for Mike Jeffrey to volley home.

Fisher and Stevens again combined in the 28th minute for the second goal, the latter sending a looping back header past the stranded North End keeper for a spectacular goal.

Four minutes from the interval the favour was returned as Stevens set up Fisher, the left winger appearing to have wasted the chance only to turn and send a powerful shot into the net from 20 yards for the third goal.

Trialist David Price, who had replaced another trialist in Jamie McGowen at the interval, hit the fourth goal in the 64th minute and then minutes later second substitute Craig Lewin hit the fifth with his first touch of the game.

REVIEWING 1967...

This programme really did flatter to deceive; a lovely colourful cover with a nice sprinkling of colour throughout the issue. Unfortunately this could not take away the fact that the content was pretty thin.

Priced at 80p it was produced to an A5 format consisting of 32 pages with the highlights being the coverage of the Wanderers which was quite good and a good readable article in 'Back Chat' which featured former Bolton player Bryan Edwards who is first team Physio at Valley Parade. The use of photographs in the programme was also quite good but overall it was a disappointing read from the Yorkshire club.

Reasonable value at 80p, but with the scope available at the Yorkshire club you would expect them to produce something a little more substantial.

SAFE HANS

A lighthearted look at football

Call it revenge if you like but last weekend's fine away win at Preston was pretty sweet, there was no way we were going to let the Deepdale faithful have the satisfaction of recording the double over us.

Two of our boys, Simon Farnworth and Warren Joyce, did their utmost to inspire North End but in the end the Wanderers mastered the artificial surface sufficient enough to come away with the vital three points, and maintain our promotion surge.

Seven away wins in the league already this season has created an air of confidence on our travels, which is good news really because this coming Wednesday we have to travel all the way down to Exeter, which, come to think of it is probably the longest of all our trips in the Division this season. Well never mind at least we will be meeting up with old favourite Trevor 'Sumo' Morgan, and you can bet that he will have a trick or two up his sleeve, the question is will it be on or off the field.

Before that though we have the tricky hurdle of today's visitors, Huddersfield Town who on their day as we found out back in September can be a match for anybody. Currently within sight of the leading pack they will be looking to maintain their recent run of results in the league this afternoon. Of course from our own point of view we will be looking to put the record straight after our 4-0 reverse at Leeds Road earlier this season.

Just referring to our home victory on Tuesday night, wasn't it cold watching? My goodness it must have been one of the coldest nights for a number of years, but the lads still did the business on the park, playing some very attractive football in the process. It really was a whole team effort and even though we didn't manage to finish off some of the splendid moves we created we all went home happy, even if a little frozen.

It's now interesting to note how the top half of the Division is developing, with leading lights of the season Southend and Grimsby keeping the momentum going, after discerning voices from some quarters that their bubble had burst. These two along with form team Cambridge are of course in their first term back in the Third Division after winning promotion from the Fourth last season. It's good to see local rivals Bury hanging in there after all their problems over the last couple of months, and no doubt Tranmere are going to figure quite prominently in the final three months of the season.

Quite a few of the leading contenders though have still to visit Burnden (Grimsby, Southend, Bury, Leyton Orient, Birmingham) so it really does leave a lot of what we have to play for in our own hands, and with our away form as good as anybody in the Division it's hopefully going to be a successful period between now and the end of the season.

On closing today the big talking point between the players at the moment is which of the back four players is going to score a goal this season. So far they have drawn a blank, although to be fair it's not from the want of trying and it's going to be very interesting who actually achieves the distinction of scoring that first goal.

The Wanderers face Huddersfield Town today for the fourth time this season. Although there was success in both legs of the first round of the Rumbelows Cup for Bolton, the Yorkshire side inflicted the Wanderers worst ever defeat at Leeds Road with a 4-0 League win.

It was Bolton's 500th post war defeat away from home in the League, Keith Edwards hitting a hat trick which included his 250th League goal, Iwan Roberts opening the scoring in the first minute.

In general both clubs have held the upper hand in home games against each other. The Wanderers have managed just one League win in their last 12 visits to Leeds Road, a Trevor Morgan goal securing the points in November 1988, whilst Huddersfield have recorded just 1 win in their last 13 visits to Burnden.

A late winner from Steve Smith gave Huddersfield a 3-2 win in October 1968 after Bolton had twice fought back from being behind.

Huddersfield made their first visit to Burnden in December 1910 when a hat trick from Billy Hughes gave Bolton a 3-2 win. In fact Town lost their first 8 games at Burnden and finally broke their duck in February 1928 thanks to a goal from Smith. That season Town finished as runners up in Division One and also reached the F.A. Cup final where they were defeated by Blackburn Rovers.

Two years later Bolton hit Town with a 7-1 defeat, Billy Butler notching a hat trick, whilst the Yorkshire sides best win at Burnden was by 5-1 in October 1947. This was their best spell as they took maximum points from their three visits between 1947 and 1949.

Last season's encounter resulted in a 2-2 draw as Bolton, who needed a win to be sure of a play off place, equalised 13 minutes from time thanks to a Tony Philliskirk penalty. Earlier Scott Green had equalised a Keith Edwards goal and Craig Maskell put Town in front for the second time 5 minutes from the interval.

Our overall League record against Huddersfield is as follows:-

	P	W	D	L	F	A
Home	35	21	7	7	74	38
Away	36	7	7	22	27	51

PLAYED FOR BOTH CLUBS

Terry Poole hailed from Chesterfield, a town which has produced a number of top class goalkeepers, signing for Manchester United in February 1967 after coming through their junior ranks.

He failed to make an appearance for the United first team and in August 1968 moved to Huddersfield Town on a free transfer. He made 207 League appearances for the Yorkshire club, helping them to win the Second Division championship in 1970.

In January 1977 Ian Greaves signed him for a second time, bringing him to Bolton in a £25,000 deal. He made his debut ironically, in a friendly at Huddersfield the very same month but failed to force regular keeper Jim McDonagh out of the side.

His full debut came in a League cup defeat at Exeter City in 1978 and in March 1980 he was allowed to join Sheffield

United in a loan spell where he made 7 appearances.

He finally made his League debut for Bolton in September 1980 and he shared the goalkeeping responsibilities that season with Denis Peacock. He made his last appearance for Bolton in April 1981, at Orient and then retired from the game.

His overall Bolton record is as follows:-

1937/38 SEASON

George Eastham made an early return to Burnden with his new club Brentford on the opening day of the season. The Wanderers made a good start winning 2-0 with Eastham's place in the line up going to Albert Grosvenor, an ex-England international, who had joined Bolton from Sheffield Wednesday during the summer.

After four games the Wanderers sat on top of the League and, despite a couple of defeats during September, remained leaders after thrashing the previous season's Second Division champions Leicester City 6-1 at Burnden. Ray Westwood grabbed a couple of goals during this game, his first being his 100th League goal.

A major change in the side took place when Alec Carruthers, who had signed the previous February from Falkirk, took the number seven shirt from G.T. Taylor. Taylor subsequently returned to the Midlands with Coventry City for a fee of £2250.

The spell at the top of the League came to an end with a 4-1 home defeat by Preston in a game that saw eight out of ten forwards on the field being Scotsmen.

A look back at years gone by George Hunt— joined the Wanderers for £4,000 from Arsenal.

During this period the looming threat of War started to become more apparent with the club receiving a request from the Government to appeal for home defence volunteers, but on the football front it was as you were.

Ray Westwood hit a hat trick in a 5-5 home draw with Chelsea, the Londoners then putting in a £12,000 bid for the Wanderers star which was turned down, whilst a week later John Calder also did the trick in a 4-2 win at West Brom.

December saw Charles Foweraker appointed Secretary-Manager for a further five years and Jack Milsom placed on the transfer list at his own request after losing his centre forward spot to Calder.

A strange incident happened on New Years Day when keeper Fred Swift received a not bribing him for £50 to concede two goals at Brentford. He promptly handed it to his manager who advised the League but no action was taken, the game resulting in a 1-1 draw.

An early exit from the Cup was sustained when Arsenal ran out 3-1 winners at Highbury all four goals coming in an eight minutes spell just before half time.

A home defeat by Derby County during January was christened as Derby's benefit game. The original commenced on Christmas Day but was abandoned after 37 minutes through fog with Bolton leading 2-0. The re-arranged match not only saw County take the points but also half of the gate receipts which under League rules they were entitled to.

Jack Milsom got his wish to leave the club during February when he made the short journey to Manchester City for a fee of £4,000. His parting shot was to score the Wanderers goal in 1-1 home draw with Sunderland, the visitors equalising in the last minute.

February and March proved to be both experimental and transitional. Jack Roberts, from Swansea, made his debut as did ex Colwyn Bay winger Jimmy Jones. Half a dozen players normally on reserve duty took to the field in a 1-0 home win over Charlton. Milsom was quickly replaced when George Hunt joined the Wanderers for a £4,000 fee from Arsenal and he scored six minutes into his debut, a 3-0 home win over West Brom on March 19th.

Three defeats in the final nine games placed the Club in a respectable seventh position. The final game of the season was a 5-0 defeat at Arsenal, the Londoners winning the Championship, thanks to their win and Wolves' defeat at Sunderland.

There had been championship aspirations early in the season but even allowing for injuries the team had proved to be not quite good enough. There was some silverware won however with the Manchester Cup coming to Burnden after a 2-1 win over Manchester United at Old Trafford. The A team also won the West Lancashire Cup whilst the reserves had finished runners up in the Central League.

HELPING THE GAME

A line new stand – one of the many initiatives supported by Trust funds.

The Football Trust 1990 has been created to help the game at all levels and to assist clubs meet the requirements of Lord Justice Taylor's Final Report.

Safety and comfort for all spectators is the primary objective and substantial funds have been made available for the provision of seating at Football League grounds. At the same time the Trust's commitment to family and community initiatives will continue with the provision of more family enclosures, better toilet facilities, covered accommodation, artificial pitches for local use and the development of women's and junior football particularly through community programmes, plus a wide range of policing and crowd control measures.

Each year The Trust expects to receive £20 million from the reduction in Pool Betting Duty plus the £10 million continuing contribution from the Spotting-the-Ball competition organised by Littlewoods, Vernons and Zettors. This money will be invested in projects which benefit football throughout the United Kingdom.
